

Sue's Room

By Teresa Taylor

Sue and Joe were home from school.

They had the flu.

Sue sat in her room and drew.

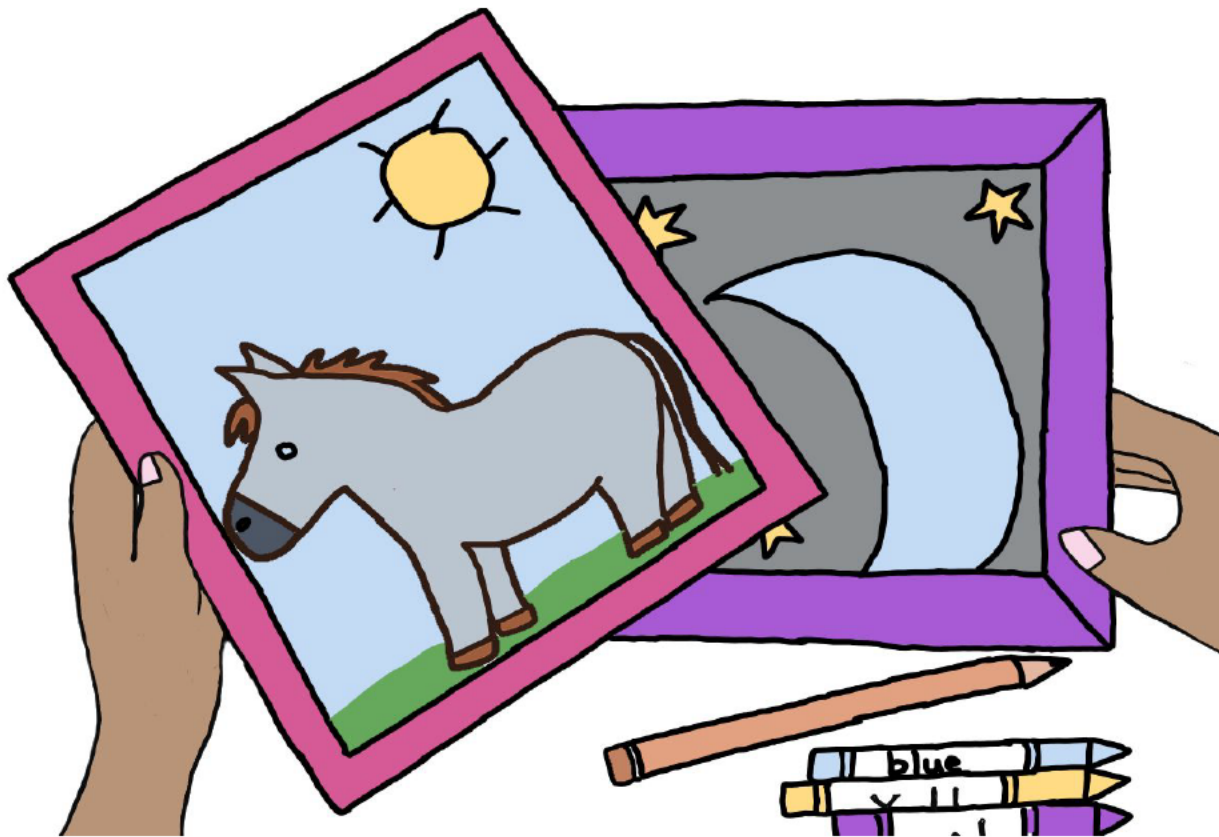

Joe ate a huge cup of soup.

Then he got the glue and went to Sue's room.

“I will use this glue to put up your new work,” he said.

Sue drew a blue moon and cute mule.

Joe put them on the wall with his glue.

“Now I have a cool view in my room,” Sue said with pride.

©2021
Targeted Reading Instruction
tri.fpg.unc.edu