

Joe Goes to the Beach

Written by Teresa Taylor

The sun beams on Joe. He is hot and wants to beat the heat. Joe has a dream to go to the beach.

Joe sees Pete at the ball field.
Pete is his surf coach. Pete is hot too and wants to go to the beach.

Pete has a jeep. His jeep is clean.
The wheels have green rims. The jeep is a neat way to beat the heat. Pete takes his jeep to the ball field and beach.

Pete gets his stuff for the beach.
Then he meets Joe on East Street.
He pulls up to him with a beep, beep, beep. Joe greets Pete with a big wave and leaps into the jeep.

Joe and Pete feel the breeze as they ride in the jeep. When they reach the beach, they see lots of sea gulls.

The gulls feast on snacks from the sea. They like to eat fish, meat, seeds, and bugs on the beach. They will eat any treat they can find.

Pete brings some snacks to eat.
He hands Joe some meat and cheese. Joe eats the treat. “Yum!”

Pete gets his surf boards from the jeep.
He will teach Joe three things to do.
Joe will kneel, lean, and surf on the peak of the waves.

Then Pete and Joe head back to the jeep. The day was like a dream.
